THURSDAY
LOCAL MATTERS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section fair to-night and Friday. The warm wave will continue through Friday, possibly culminating in thunderstorms Friday night; southerly winds.

RUNAWAYS.—A horse attached to a buggy belonging to Mr. George K. Pickett ran away in Fayette alley between six and seven o'clock yesterday evening and upon reaching the strand plunged overboard, carrying the buggy with it. A young man who was standing on the dock at the time jumped into the water and cut the animal loose from the buggy, after which it swam to the King street dock and was gotten ashore. The runaway attracted considerable attention and originated a rumor that a man had been drowned. In the buggy were a quantity of sugar, a dozen plow points and Mr. Pickett's week's laundry and some other articles. The sugar and plow points were lost. Mr. Pickett is a prominent Baptist and if water can make a horse one, his animal is now in the fold.

A horse attached to a wagon loaded with wheat belonging to Mrs. Bowling, living near Accotink, ran away on Monday, and two men who were working on the farm were seriously injured in attempting to stop the animal.

POLICE COURT.—The following cases were disposed of last night:

A young man, arrested by Officer Howson for assaulting an acquaintance, was fined $5.

A young man, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Matilda Harris, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Aaron Jackson, colored, arrested by Officer Sherwood for refusing to work on the chain gang, was locked up on a bread-and-water diet.

Daniel Corbin, colored, arrested by Officer Atkinson for being drunk on the street, was dismissed with a reprimand, as was also a white man who had been arrested by Officer Howson for a similar offense.

John Jasper and John Higginson, both colored, arrested by Officer Bettis for fighting, were fined $5 each.

Night Report.—Last night was clear and cool. Two prisoners and three lodgers were at the station house.

FAST TIME.—The private steam yacht Rex, which is claimed to be the fastest of her class in Atlantic waters, raced against time Tuesday and Wednesday on the Potomac, a short distance above this city. Her course was a measured nautical mile, and she made it in two minutes and sixteen seconds on the first day and two minutes and ten seconds on the second day. This latter trial was at the rate of twenty-six and a quarter nautical miles per hour, or thirty-two statute miles. The Rex is owned by ex-Congressman G. C. Conn, editor and proprietor of the Washington Times. She is built of mahogany throughout and has triple expansion engine. The boat is sixty-four feet overall, and seven feet six inches beam. She was at the shipyard in this city recently, where she received repairs.

NOT SUCCESSFUL.—Samuel Lamb, the man who was shot by his brother at Portner's brewery several weeks ago, and who was yesterday taken from the infirmary to Washington in order that the bullet which entered his breast might be located by means of the X rays, was brought home yesterday evening. The attempt was unsuccessful, as the instrument did not work. Another attempt will be made as soon as the proper apparatus used in such cases can be brought from Philadelphia. Lamb is improving and Dr. Slaughter thinks he has located the ball. He thinks that after passing through the lungs it struck one of Lamb's ribs, where it now remains. No operation will be performed unless the wound causes Lamb more pain than it now does.

K. G. E. INSTALLATION.—The regular meeting of Champion Castle, No. 5, Knights of Golden Eagle, was held last night at Sarepta Hall. After the regular routine business was transacted, the following officers were installed by Deputy Supreme Chief, Wm. T. Rogers: P. C., Jas. Houlston; Noble Chief, W. J. Moore; Vice Chief, F. Schwab, jr.; High Priest, Wm. T. Rogers; Keeper of Records, Chas. M. Hancock; Sir Herald, W. R. Spittle; Worthy Chamberlain, Robert Ford; First Guardsman, Jos. E. Clift; Second Guardsman, Cornelius Griffin; Chas. M. Hancock was appointed a special committee to go to Philadelphia, Pa., on business concerning the above mentioned castle. He will leave Friday evening at 4 o'clock and be gone several days.

PERSONAL.—Rev. J. J. Lloyd has been elected a member of the board of trustees of the Episcopal Theological Seminary. Mr. Harvey Prettyman is visiting friends in Richmond. Mr. Robert E. Lee, the son of Gen. W. H. Lee, and representative of the Lee family on this occasion, rode with General Hampton in the parade in Richmond to-day. It is thought by many that young Lee is in appearance more like his grandfather than any of the name. Capt. William King and Mr. F. G. Bailey returned from a short trip to Europe Monday night. Capt. King's health has been greatly benefited by his trip.

LECTURE.—Miss Belle Kearney, of Mississippi, one of the most brilliant women of the South, will lecture in the M. E. Church South on Friday night at 8 o'clock. Miss Kearney is highly spoken of by the press of the South. Her subject will be temperance, and the public is cordially invited. She will be one of the most prominent speakers at the coming Christian Endeavor Convention at Washington. There will be special music, consisting of solos by prominent singers and marching songs by the children of the Loyal Temperance Legion.

A SPECIMEN CASE.—The propensity of negroes to rush into the Police Court on frivolous issues was demonstrated last night when a colored woman had an acquaintance arrested on the charge of disorderly conduct. Upon being told to state her case the complainant averred that the defendant had shocked her sensitive nature by declaring that her children were as black as crows. The litigants with the seven or eight witnesses were driven from the court room and the case brought to an abrupt termination.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A serious accident occurred to a young man named George McCracken on Union street about eleven o'clock this morning. He was driving a wagon belonging to Messrs. Curtin & Butts, loaded with iron frames, down Wolf street, and when near Union some of the load slipped and the rattle occasioned by it soared the horses and they ran away. The animals ran into the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad depot yard where the wagon came in contact with a pile of lumber. The concussion threw the driver out of the wagon and the wheels passed over his legs almost as high as the abdominal region. The injured man was picked up by those who had witnessed the accident and placed in a wagon belonging to Messrs. E. S. Leadbeater & Sons and taken to his home on Wilkes street, where he received the attention of Drs. Purvis and Snowden, who found that his leg was fractured below the hip joints.

A PREACHER CALLED.—Mr. Wm. H. Beckham, a student of the Theological Seminary of Virginia, has been secured to take charge of Overwharton Parish Stafford county. He has the highest recommendation from Virginia clergy and the people of the parish look forward with new interest in their church affairs. Mr. Beckham will hold two services Sunday 5th at Aquia and Clifton.—Fredericksburg Star.

poral of Co. G, Seventh Regiment, U. S. Infantry, shot and instantly killed himself in a house of questionable character in Pittsburgh, Pa. The cause was remorse at having abused a woman with whom he had been living, but who left him last Saturday. Lewis was seeking her, and failing, killed himself.

The committee appointed to secure the signatures of Kentucky distillers to the agreement to suspend production for eighteen months, met in Louisville this morning and reported that all the distillers in the State, with the exception of a few in Louisville, had signed. If those who are still holding out finally refuse to sign, the agreement will not become operative and a big cut in prices will follow.

Charles Williams, colored, of Baltimore, this morning attempted to cut his wife's throat with a razor in their room at a boarding house in Atlantic City, N. J. The woman's cries brought assistance, whereupon Williams drew the razor across his own throat and died almost instantly. The woman was badly cut and is in a dangerous condition.

The argument for a new trial in the case of J. B. Gentry, who was convicted on Saturday of the murder of Margaret W. Drysdale, was to-day made to-day before Judge Yerkes in Philadelphia, but owing to the absence of Lawyer Charles Brooke, of New York, senior counsel for the defense, it was postponed until to-morrow. A COUNTRYMAN FLEECED.—Charles V. Oliver, a young man hailing from Fairfax county, and possessed of strong sporting proclivities, provided himself with a horse and buggy yesterday and drove to Washington with a lurking determination to have a good time. On his person was $100. While drinking at a well-known saloon he fell in with P. Trick Danaher, and extended to him an invitation to take a ride. The latter readily consented, and together they drove about, young Oliver trusting on every occasion. It was not long before both began to feel the effects of their jollification, and Danaher suggested that they drive out into the country. Accordingly they turned their course to the Bladensburg road, where the pleasant trip ended in a very unsatisfactory manner. Only a short distance had been traveled when Danaher upset the buggy, throwing Oliver out. In the scuffle which ensued $43.15 was abstracted from the latter's pocket by Danaher, who jumped into the buggy and leaving the young man in the road started back toward Washington. Stripped of his money, horse and buggy Oliver quickly communicated the affair to an officer, who at once started in pursuit of the fleeing thief. The officer was successful in running down his man, and shortly after both Oliver and Danaher were resting behind the bars at the Ninth precinct station. The former was held for intoxication while the latter was charged with larceny from the person. When Danaher was searched the lost money was found upon him.
